

MobileMagic XX

LightBox Photographic Gallery is accepting submissions for the August 2015 MobileMagic exhibit.

The Deadline for submission is Midnight, July 26th.

We are very pleased to have Aline Smithson, fine art photographer and publisher of Lenscratch as juror for MobileMagic XX.

“It dawned on me recently that it might be only a matter of time until photography moves completely to cell phone capture, and for those outside of the fine art world, it probably already has. As photographers, we need to look at the cell phone as another tool and another possibility—those ahead of the curve have already been using cell phones to create imagery beyond what was in our viewfinder or imagination and it’s exciting to consider the future. Apps have made every approach to photography possible and more and more fine art photographers are exploring the medium, so it’s important that we embrace a way of creating art that is becoming part of our visual zeitgeist.” ~ Aline Smithson

MobileMagic is a monthly exhibit for display in the gallery and online, opening during our regular Second Saturday Monthly Openings. Each month we display archival pigment prints of the top 25 juried images, selected by a renown juror from the photographic community. LightBox will print every submission, that’s right, every single submission, not just the juror’s top 25. All are printed as a 100% archival rag pigment print and mailed to the photographer. A Juror’s choice will receive a $50 cash award.
